

*Law and liberty go together.
In fact, a nation cannot have liberty without a respect for law.
Yet the laws upheld must respect individual freedom and sovereignty, and seek to prevent citizens from violating others' rights.*