

The terms negative and positive in this context do not mean "bad" and "good." They mean "restraint on government action" and "requiring government action," respectively.