

A free people [claim] their rights as derived from the laws of nature, and not as the gift of their chief magistrate.

—Thomas Jefferson—