Does Acts 2:44-45 and 4:34-35 indicate the early church practiced socialism? Here are these passages in context. (Emphases have been added.)

Acts 2:40 And with many other words he [Peter] testified and exhorted them, saying, "Be saved from this perverse generation." ⁴¹ Then those who gladly received his word were baptized; and that day about three thousand souls were added to them. ⁴² And they continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, in the breaking of bread, and in prayers. ⁴³ Then fear came upon every soul, and many wonders and signs were done through the apostles. ⁴⁴ Now all who believed were together, and had all things in common, ⁴⁵ and sold their possessions and goods, and divided them among all, as anyone had need.

⁴⁶ So continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, they ate their food with gladness and simplicity of heart, ⁴⁷ praising God and having favor with all the people. And the Lord added to the church daily those who were being saved.

Acts 4:32 Now the multitude of those who believed were of one heart and one soul; neither did anyone say that any of the things he possessed was his own, but they had all things in common. ³³ And with great power the apostles gave witness to the resurrection of the Lord Jesus. And great grace was upon them all. ³⁴ Nor was there anyone among them who lacked; for all who were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the proceeds of the things that were sold, ³⁵ and laid them at the apostles' feet; and they distributed to each as anyone had need.

³⁶ And Joses, who was also named Barnabas by the apostles (which is translated Son of Encouragement), a Levite of the country of Cyprus, ³⁷ having land, sold it, and brought the money and laid it at the apostles' feet.

Acts 5:1-11 also is pertinent to our discussion. (Emphasis has been added.)

Acts 5:1 But a certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, sold a possession. ² And he kept back part of the proceeds, his wife also being aware of it, and brought a certain part and laid it at the apostles' feet. ³ But Peter said, "Ananias, why has Satan filled your heart to lie to the Holy Spirit and keep back part of the price of the land for yourself? ⁴ While it remained, was it not your own? And after it was sold, was it not in your own control? Why have you conceived this thing in your heart? You have not lied to men but to God."

⁵ Then Ananias, hearing these words, fell down and breathed his last. So great fear came upon all those who heard these things. ⁶ And the young men arose and wrapped him up, carried him out, and buried him.

⁷ Now it was about three hours later when his wife came in, not knowing what had happened. ⁸ And Peter answered her, "Tell me whether you sold the land for so much?"

She said, "Yes, for so much."

⁹ Then Peter said to her, "How is it that you have agreed together to test the Spirit of the Lord? Look, the feet of those who have buried your husband are at the door, and they will carry you out." ¹⁰ Then immediately she fell down at his feet and breathed her last. And the young men came in and found her dead, and carrying her out, buried her by her husband. ¹¹ So great fear came upon all the church and upon all who heard these things.

Group 1: Discuss these insights. — The spontaneous generosity of church members arose in a context of a community of committed believers who feared God, praised God, and were overcome with a sense of awe regarding what He was doing in their midst. Generosity is commanded in Scripture (here are three of many such passages: Prov. 11:24-25; Acts 20:35; 1 Tim. 6:17-19). When "giving" is coerced, it is not giving; nor is it charity. Socialism and its related systems advocate a forced redistribution of wealth and resources. Contrast the outcome of spontaneous, voluntary giving in the church (God is glorified) to the outcome when transfer of wealth is forced by the government (the state is seen as the source of resources and gets credit for meeting needs).

Group 2: Discuss these insights. — When those involved in the early church "had all things in common" (Acts 2:44), none of the goods that made up the store of common resources was owned by the group from the outset; instead, each item of value, whether money or goods, was donated freely and voluntarily. Ownership of assets was transferred when the original owner donated or sold them. Describe how God is glorified and relationships are strengthened within the church when giving to meet needs is voluntary. Contrast this scenario to what happens to relationships when the government taxes wealth and redistributes it to those deemed to be in need.

Group 3: Discuss these insights. — The free and voluntary donations came from individuals and families who owned them privately. The government was not involved; nor was the community of believers considered to be owner of anything that was not donated. What happens to relationships when someone assumes he owns something he really does not?

Group 4: Discuss these insights. — Those who gave to meet the needs of fellow church members laid their donations "at the apostles' feet" (4:35). That makes it a "slam dunk" that the church didn't engage in socialism! Advocates of socialism want people's money to go to the government, not to the church! Discuss: What happens when the state starts to meddle in the affairs of the church?

Group 5: Discuss these insights. — Property rights and the right to voluntarily engage in economic transactions were explicitly affirmed, even while church still was using the common store approach. In Acts 5:1-11, Peter himself affirmed these rights. When donations were being made to the common treasury, Ananias and Sapphira, a husband and wife, sold a piece of property and brought a portion of the proceeds to the apostles. They claimed they were bringing the entire amount but actually held a portion back. Their primary offense wasn't failing to donate all of the proceeds, but lying about their gift. To their own peril, they lied to God Himself. Discuss: How did Peter affirm property rights in verses 5:3-4? What does the phrase "in your own control" mean in practical terms?
