

It is the mutual duty of all to practice Christian forbearance, love, and
charity toward each other.
—James Madison—