

The end of law is not to abolish or restrain,
but to preserve and
enlarge freedom.

John Locke

