IN CONGRESS, July 4, 1776.

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of Hinterica.

Then in the lourse of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to disolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal feation to which the Laws of Sature and of Nature's load ontitle them, a deant respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which imput them to the soft Parinciples of Liberty Session of received equal, that they are indowed by their breates with certain unalimable Rights, that among these are Life, Liverty and the pursuit of Happiness.— That to secure these lights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their pursuit of the consent of the governed The Reality and Authority of Nature's located their object the description on such principles and organizing its spowers in such form, as to their shall seem most takety to effect their caseing and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light inciples in acceptance by all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which may are acceptances. But when along train of abuses and resurrence hath shewn, spursuing invariably the same Object been the patient fufferance of these Colonies; and fuch is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injurie an God exists, that be a can world. The has refused his algorithms of the present King of Great to a can world. The has refused his algorithms of the present King of Great to a can world. and prefing importance, unless fuspended in their operation till his absent should be officined; and when supported the partitudy neglected to attend to them _____ He has refused pass other Laws for the accommodation of land moral winds to them and farmidable to brants only. ____ He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their Public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures. _____ A CCONNATO Course repeatedly, for opposing with many firmness his invasions on the rights of the seconds. for their exercise; the state remain along time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the Legislative powers, in capable of Annihilation, have returned to the People at large for their exercise; the state remain ing in the mean time exposed to all the land bisolute truths exist and are knowable in of these states; for that purpose obstruction the form of the bar obstructed the He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his affect to their Ucts of prelended Legislation: _ For Juantering large bodies of